Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Thistles bear no figs is an adage that is again exemplified in the labor troubles in the East. John L. Lewis, who threw in his lot with a group of known communists, now finds they are out of control, and the public sick of their antics. They bear their characteristic fruit which is highly irritating to peace loving and law abiding citizens. Reports that the President. waiting as usual the psychological moment, has caused Miss Perkins and Roper, of his cabinet to denounce sitdown strikes, are signficant. That sit downs had already proved a boomerang detracts a little from the belated and indirect action taken by the President, but the fact that he has turned in the direction the wind was blowing indicates that he regards Lewis as no longer an important political factor.

The Senate tax committee which has been busily turning up the names of those wealthy citizens who avoided paying any more taxes than the law prescribes, have had to listen to some plain facts about the President's own tax avoidance and that of Mrs. Roosevelt. It must be highly embarassing for everybody concerned.

The tax investigation is already proving a flop. The reason is that people everywhere have learned to distinguish between tax avoidance, which the law and the Treasury department permits, and tax evasion, which the law expressly prohibits and penalizes. The logic of the entire situation is this: If tax avoidance disturbs the Treasury department, it should submit a tax bill for enactment that will stop it. If the Treasury finds that other wealthy citizens are dodging their taxes illegally, the department has all the machinery and the money necessary to arrest, prosecute and punish the offenders. Then why the investigation? We suspect that it was nothing more than another herring drawn over the President's attack on the Supreme Court, intended for nothing but to distract public attention from the latter issue.

While the Senate tax investigators drone along, on the inside pages, every now and then turning up the names of men hostile to the New Deal, the great forsenic battle over the Supreme Court still makes the front page. So the herring was wasted after all.

Judging by press reports it looks as if the bitterness of this battle between the President and the Conservative Democrats in congress, holds promise of crippling the Democratic donkey for some years to come. The Senate alignment indicates that Virginia, Texas, North Carolina of the old solid South are alienated in so far as this issue is concerned. Several western states, including Montana and Wyoming have also left the New Deal reservation. Nevada has one senator for the Court packing and one against. California is in a like situation, McAdoo for and Johnson against.

At this distance, it would seem as if the President, politically speaking, had seriously blundered. He has been so often eulogized as a man with an astounding sense of dramatics and politics, as having a supernormal instinct for sensing what the people want, that it is with some reluctance, we hazard the opinion that he has made a tremendous political mistake. Perhaps the din of the sycophants praising him near at hand, drowned out the distant thunder.

Note that we have said "political" mistake. Fundamentally the blunder is more than that. He has underestimated the patriotism of 125,000,000 Americans. Slowly opinions of this great mass crystalize, like ice on a lake, beginning with upper intellectual surface and gradually penetrating the mass. This country is a long way from a dictatorship with so large a proportion of our Congressmen united to battle a measure that would abridge our bill of rights.

The death of Senator Robinson, Democratic majority leader, who was leading the fight for his friend, the President, for the court packing bill, probably means the end of the battle. For no one as able and as respected as was Senator Robinson in Congress is ready to wear the mantle of the fallen leader. It is a sad thing to think that the mental anxiety and the strain of this battle, probably hastened Senaor Robinson's end. Many a friend in both Republican and Democratic ranks will feel that long since he should have received his coveted appointment to the Supreme Court, that was apparently withheld from him until such time as he had won the President's fight for (from his point of view) court reform.

Nor. San Juan Garage Burns; Town Menaced

Shortly before 6 o'clock last evening fire broke out in Watson's garage in North San Juan and despite efforts of volunteers the building was destroyed along with two trucks one of which belonged to the garage and the other to Mrs. Amelia Cunningham of the Willow Springs store.

The garage is located a short distance north of the Willow Springs store. Men and boys of the fire department trotted out the old hose cart and every effort was made to check the flames. The fire suppression crew from the stub CCC camp two miles distant on Shady Creek arrived and went into action soon after the alarm sounded, and some fire fighters were summoned from Nevada City's department. The combined efforts resulted in saving two or three miners cabins that were adjacent to the property and also kept the flames from spreading into the grass and brush lands adjoining the garage.

Damage was estimated at $3,000.

THRILLS ALONG FOOTE ROAD ADVERTISED

Much comment resulted from the advertisement appearing at the bottom of Page 3 in Monday"s Nugget. A lot of people wondered whether the ad was intended to be satiric or whether it was really to advertise a million thrills to be had in traversing the Foote Road to Alleghany. The following letter received by the publisher of this newspaper, without revealing the identity of the advertiser, who of course signed the letter, is published in order to shed a little light on the matter:

Alleghany, July 11, 1937

Dear Sir:

Enclosed find $5. Print an ad in next issue reading this way:

The Trip of a Million Thrills. The Foote Road to Alleghany.

Make it as loud and big as you can for the five in one issue.

The letter contained $5 as stated. It is to be hoped that the lever exerted by advertising the thrills, probably meaning the kind Dante received when he explored the Inferno, will start the ball rolling toward improving that extremely hazardous and uncomfortable road.

LAVA CAP SIGNS UP WITH CIO AFFILIATE

A working agreement between the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and the Lava Cap Mines Company was signed Wednesday giving the CIO union its first recognition by any company in the Grass Valley-Nevada City district.

The contract, which affects approximately 250 men employed at the Lava Cap mines, was signed by Superintendent Otto Schiffner of the mines; Al Garesio, secretary of the international union, and Joe Talley, chairman of the neigotiations committee.

The principal provisions in the agreement provide for an eight hour day, the present wage scale of $5.84 for miners and $5.36 for muckers and the naming of a grievance committee to settle any disputes.

Named on the grievance committee are: Joe Talley, chairman; B. M. Rice, Ben Richards, Vincent Gress, E. J. Burns, Joe Cox and Carl Aipers.

The union which was formed last February, has established an office in the Valley Hotel Building in Grass Valley. Joe Garesio was placed in charge.—Sacramento Bee.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bolt of Gridley are now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cain of this city.

BEST RECREATION SPOTS IN STATE HERE AT HOME

DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest, gave an entertaining description of thhe recreational resources of this region in a short luncheon address at the Rotary club's meeting yesterday. His theme was "Recreation in Your Own Backyard." Illustrating his talk there was distributed by every plate a new Forest Service map of the Donner Lake country.

Quaker Hill and its petrified forest, Nelson stated, is a section well worth exploring for those who have not been there. There is a vast amount of petrified wood there and it is one of the scenic spots near Nevada City for short trips.

The road to Bloomfield, passing through the old Malakoff diggings with their wonderful colorings and pastel shades, remindful of the Grand Canyon and Brice's Canyon on a lesser scale, the speaker stated, would repay anyone who takes the time to drive over there. Bloomfield first explored in 1850 was a disappointment to the prospectors and was called "Humbug". Two years later another group of prospectors entered the district found plenty of pay dirt, and due to the fact that they settled here in the spring of the year when wild flowers made a gorgeous display, they called the place Bloomfiled.

The trip to Downieville, through Sierra City and up by the Sardine, Salmon, Packer and Gold Lakes, all high mountain lakes, affords one of the most scenic tours in California. The lakes are especially beautiful even among a galaxy of Sierra lakes.

Supervisor Nelson stressed the fact that we live in a great recreational area and that those who seek vacations in other parts of the state are leaving behind them one of the most beautiful and scenic spots in California.

TRAILER ABLAZE COOKS FINE MESS OF TROUT

CAMPTONVILLE, July 15.—A bad fire was prevented a few days ago when Dispatcher Paul Rafferty and Assistant Ranger Ralph L. Gleaosn responded to a call up the highway where a trailer belonging to J. W. Sutton, former highway foreman at Downieville, was ablaze.

The origin of the fire was not known but it is presumed that a cigarette fell among the bedding in the trailer. Sutton did not notice the fire until his attention was attracted by Luke Ramm who noticed the smoke when the car passed the Gold Pan. By the time the Forest Service officers reached the place, the contents were well burned and the fire started in the forest which was quickly put out by the officers.

Sutton lost tents, a good mattress, a valuable guitar and his fishing tackle in the blaze, and worst of all, a basket of fish were "cooked," but he didn't get to eat them

GRAZING LANDS IN POOR SHAPE SAYS INSPECTOR

Leland Smith, head of the grazing division of the Tahoe National Forest who has charge of conservation work for the federal government under the AAA, stated that he found on July 1, there remained 200,000 acres of farm and grazing lands to be examined. He expects the work to last until the first of October. Mr. Smith has charge of twelve counties in his district including Nevada, Sierra, Plumas, Butte, Sutter, Yuba, Placer, El Dorado, Amador, Sacramento, San Joaquin and Calaveras. Four inspectors are under his supervision.

While farmers and stock raisers in the past could not raise enough money to carry out improvements on their property the allowance made through this federal department makes it possible. In this work examination is made of water development in springs, soil erosion, re-seeding range lands, and cross fencing. An allowance of $1.50 per head of stock is made.

Mr. Smith stated that he has found the hay crop in his territory about 50 per cent of normal due to the rain coming about January first, then a long late spring, when everything seemed to get a late start and as soon as hot weather came feed was killed out in many instances and short in growth in places. It is reported in the Birchville area above North San Juan extreme cold killed out many hardy grasses leaving poor feed for livestock. Mr. Smith looks forward to a hard season for stock this coming winter. Early rains would in some measure start grass for early spring feed. Re-seeding will give the ranges a chance to reproduce again and many more animals can be kept than is possible at this time.

N. C. POSTOFFICE SHOWS SMALL GAIN OVER 1936

Betty Martin West, postmaster of the Nevada City post office, has released the gross postal returns for the local post office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937 as $5,194.49. The gross postal returns on June 30, 1936 was $5,160.65. which is a very small increase over last year. Mrs. West states that the 1936 increase over the 1935 report was much larger than the 1937 over the 1936 in comparison.

BAND ENTERTAINS

The high school band again entertained the public with a short concert Wednesday night from the National Hotel balcony, which included the following: "Spirit of the Day," march; "Huntress," march; "Anchors Away," march; "Our Director," march; "Sliding Some," march; "Paramount," overture; and Strausianna," waltz selection.

Mining Activity In County Trends Upward

With the subsidence of labor agitation in this district which is probably a reflection of eastern conditions, where law and order have again been maintained aganist communistic disturbances in industrial areas in seven states, mining activity this month reveals another upward surge.

Idaho-Maryland now employs 600 men, making it, second in employment of miners in the county. Empire Star leads with 830 men. New machinery moving into the Zeibright mine will soon bring the mill capacity of that big mine up to 1100 tons per day.

Negotiations are reported in connection with several properties that have long been idle. In fact, there seems to be a more insistent inquiry for good mining opportunities at reasonable terms and prices than for some months past.

The total number of men now employed in the county in the mining industry, as shown by the table below, is 2,418 and the total payroll amounts to $362,700 monthly This compares with 2563 employed a year ago this month with a payroll of $356,820. While the number of men employed are roughly 150 less than last year at this time, owing to advances in wages from an average of $140 per month to $150 per month, the total monthly payroll is approximately $6,000 more than last year. Nevada county pays the highest wages to miners in California.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the manager of the telephone system, E. E. Hoss, reports that telephone connections are approximately as many as last year, while Dan Stewart, P. G. & E. superintendent for the county, states that while there were a considerable number of disconnections earlier in the year that practically all of these have been again resumed in both Nevada City and Grass Valley. Real estate dealers also report a scarcity of good four and five room houses and flats.

Reports from various mining companies follow:

ZEIBRIGHT MINE

Reports are the Zeibright mine mill is being enlarged to increased capacity of the 700 ton mill, 400 tons or 1100 tons. It is stated ore increasing in value and development in the shaft continues. This property has immense ledges of ore carrying low values near the surface The mine is east of Nevada City and has a large acreage.

BULLION MINE

The Bullion mine south of Grass Valley is trucking 85 tons of ore to the Idaho-Maryland mine mill each day for reduction. Twenty men are employed.

Two shifts are working in a sinking program which started from the 1700 foot level H. Dennis is superintendent. In recent litigation a decision was made in favor of the Grass Valley Bullion Mines. The property is being worked by the Idaho-Maryland Mines corporation under an agreement with the Empire-Star Mines Company, Ltd.

MURCHIE MINE

A tunnel is being driven on the 1600 foot level to contact a vein carrying satisfactory values and exposed on the surface at the Murchie mine. The company has about 400 feet more to drive to contact the vein and it is expected the work will be completed about Christmas time.

They Shall Not Pass

Summary of Majority Report of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"We recommend the rejection of this bill as a needless, futile and utterly dangerous abandonment of constitutional principle.

"It was presented to the Congress in a most intricate form and for reasons that obscured its real purpose.

"It would not banish age from the bench nor abolish divided decisions.

"It would not affect the power of any court to hold laws unconstitutional nor withdraw from any judge the authority to issue injunctions.

"It would not reduce the expense of litigation nor speed the decision of cases.

"It is a proposal without precedent and without justification.

"It would subjugate the courts to the will of Congress and the President and thereby destroy the independence of the judiciary, the only certain shield of individual rights.

"It contains the germ of a system of centralized administration of law that would enable an executive so minded to send his judges into every judicial district in the land to sit in judgment on controversies between the government and the citizen.

"It points the way to the evasion of the Constitution and establishes the method whereby the people may be deprived of their right to pass upon all amendments of the fundamental law.

"It stands now before the country, acknowledged by its proponents as a plan to force judicial interpretation of the Constitution, a proposal that violates every sacred tradition of American democracy.

"Under the form of the Constitution it seems to do that which is unconstitutional.

"Its ultimate operation would be to make this government one of men rather than one of law, and its practical operation would be to make the Constitution what the executive or legislative branches of the government choose to say it is—an interpretation to be changed with each change of administration.

"It is a measure which should be so emphatically rejected that its parallel will never again be presented to the free representatives of the free people of America."

HIGHWAY ASSN. TO GIVE PUBLIC PICNIC SUNDAY

The California State Employees' association will hold the annual Peach Bowl Chapter Number 40 picnic at pictruesque Lake Olympia starting promptly at 10 a. m. next Sunday.

The picnic, was started three years ago by F. R. Garrison of this city who, with the Nevada City crew, entertained approximately 500 at a picnic. This was so popular that the chapter decided last year to make it an annual event and so this will make the third picnic. As the president, Mr. Garrison will act as general chairman for the games and other features of the day. This year however for the first time the public is being invited to attend.

At 10 a. m. the games and sports will begin with games for the young and old. Potato races. relays, dashes, sack races and other odd events will be included in the contests with prizes for all. After this the guests will eat their basket lunches.

The feature of the afternoon will be a game between the the Nevada City division of highways CSEA. The Marysville team is now in the second place of the Marysville league and is fighting hard for first position. The local team has been announced as the undefeated team.

The dance on the island platform will follow this and music will be provided by an orchestra from Williams, California.

TRAFFIC COUNT IN THIS AREA SHOWS INCREASE

The traffic census held over Sunday and Monday into and out of Nevada City, Grass Valley and Downieville which began at six o'clock in the morning and lasted until ten o'clock each day under Superintendent Fred Garrison, state division of highways, was found to be more than ever before. Approximately 300 vehicles per hour traveled the Tahoe-Ukiah highway in and out of Nevada City and Grass Valley. The actual count has not yet been released as it has to be accepted by the state department first.

It is highly satisfactory to learn of this spledid condition as it will assist in securing more state finances for the improvement of the local state roads.

TRACTOR TURNS OVER DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY

A narrow escape occurred Wednesday whe a large Caterpillar tractor, property of the highway department went off the state road below Rough and Ready and fell 15 feet, turning completely over when halted. The driver, Joe Swartz of Nevada City, was unhurt in the accident. The tractor was only slightly damaged and will soon be in working condition again.

Browsing With The Bookworm

My browsing today envolved no effort, because as I approached the bookshelves looming large before me was John Steinbeck's OF MICE AND MEN, published by Covici Friede.

This book has already been widely publicized, but may I add my insignificant quota of praise to the plaudits of the multitude? Those who enjoyed Mr. Steinbeck's TORTILLA FLAT will find something even more outstanding in this new work.

Here is a story as real as an aching tooth. but less disagreeable. The tale of a couple of transient laborers. One. Lennie, a mild Frankinstein, a huge behemoth of a man with the mind of a child, and the strength of a gorilla. An affectionate inoffensive creature ruled by his pal, George.. who is small, swift thinking and dominant. The story deals with Lennie's deep affection for small animals and his utter inability to control his herulean strength when he is panicked into using it, and of Goerge's watchful care over his blundering friend. The characters are drawn with vivid starkness and an understanding sympathy that bespeaks a close and intimate study by the author. The climax of this book is one of the biggest punches of recent fiction.

If you can take you reality unadulterated, or if you have a mind that can be depended upon to swathe this story in an aurora of fantasy, by all means read it. However if you are squeamish about the seamy side of life, approach it with due caution.

FORSAKING ALL OTHERS by Alice Duer Miller, published by Simon Schuster, New York, is a story in verse. Epic poems as a rule are difficult for the average person to read, but this particular poem is smooth and lilting, definitely telling its tale with a minimum of frills and furbelows, and what is more, it is excellent poetry.

The story is of the eternal triangle and it is gracefully handled. An unique and unusual presentation of a theme as old as life itself, and you will enjoy from cover to cover.

COUNTY ASSESSED VALUE OF REALTY $8,582,210

The property valuation of Nevada county has been raised to $8 582.210 the highest assessed valuation in the history of the county. Even though this year there has been a loss in taxable property to the amount of $132.235, due to the loss of land deeded to the United States by the owners thereof, property sold to the state and personal propery removed from the county due to sale, the assessment rolls of County Assessor H. M. Hammill show an increase over 1936.

The grand total of county property valuation subject to taxation also includes the $7,949,150, the tentative valuation fixed by the State Board of Equalization of the property of the public utilities, making the grand total $16,531,360. The assessment roll of Nevada county has been increased each year during the past six years. Complaints, however to the county board of equalization have been very few and none has been sustained by the board.

NEW LAWS WILL GOVERN TRAFFIC

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Changes in law regarding the handling of traffic arrest cases with a view to simplifying court procedure and expediting hearings were made at the recent session of the state legislature. They will become effective August 27 following the signing of the measures by Governor Merriam. Some of the principal changes are reviewed in a report by the California State Automobile Association as follows:

Immediate filing of a complaint will be required where an arrested person is taken before a magistrate. The purpose is to assure a prompt hearing.

All citatios issued for "excessive speed" will have to be specific to the extent of stating the "approximate speed" at which the arrested person was alleged to be driving, as well as the legal speed permitted in the locality.

Courts will be authorized to proceed with trial of a traffic arrest case where the defendant is absent but represented by counsel. Judgment may be pronounced in the same manner as though the defendant were present. Provision is made for entry of a plea of guilty by mail where the defendant's signature is acknowledgd before a notary. These changes are designed to facilitate the disposition of traffic arrest cases.

Justices of the peace will be required to report traffic law convictions to the Department of Motor Vehicles and payment of their salaries will be contingent upon the filing of such reports The purpose is to make more complete the system of records that enables the department to proceed with suspension or cancellation of drivers' licenses or to require reexamination, all with a view to eliminating dangerous types of drivers.

Glory of Past Recalled By Horses of the Circus

Miss Genevieve Hughes and Mount

Can you remember when all eyes turned toward the village dandy as he single-footed down the main street on a sleek filly? And when to take one's lady friend driving in a shiny black buggy was a mark of distinction? And when a fire alarm was answered by a nickel-plated engine drawn by three broad-backed chargers on a mad gallop through the city streets?

The horse, once so indispensable an item in the average man's life, has been practically retired with the rapid ascension of the automobile. Interest in horses, however, has remained high and the average person of today is as eager to witness an exhibition by this intelligent beast as were his grandparents two generations ago.

One of the few places in which the horse has held his own is the circus. Russell Bros. Circus, which will give two shows at Cashin Field on Wednesday, July 21, will display some particularly fine specimens in almost human exhibitions.

The menage or high school horses, ridden by skilled horsemen and the charming equestriennes, exhibit rare skill and in their routine of gaits, trots, marches and dances. Liberty horses give interesting performances without riders. The reckless horsemanship of frontier days is revived by trick riders and ropers in the Wild West section of the Russell Bros. performance.

Of particular interest to the little folks is the large group of performing Shetland ponies, or "horses in miniature."

Once a monarch in his own right, the horse will again be "King for a day" when the circus arrives.

CAMPTONVILLE

CAMPTONVILLE, July 15.—Mr. and Mrs. William Hoelskin of Oakland arrived a few days ago to spend a month visiting at Freemans Crossing.

Lola B. Cleveland narrowly escaped being bitten by a big rattlesnake in her garage Friday afternoon.

Emil Verch returned Friday from Alleghany where he spent the past two weeks on his mining claims there.

Paul Rafferty, dispatcher of the local Forest Service, left Tuesday for Watsonville on a two days visit with relatives.

William Groves returned Monday evening from a four days visit at Martinez and Oakland.

Miss Katherine Pauly returned Monday from a few days visit with relatives at Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Panecke and daughter of San Francisco arrived and will spend two weeks visiting at Oak Valley.

Before and after forty —To live happily, when retired, we must develop earlier in life an avocation, to maintain our interest in life. Such outside lines of thought and diversion are the more successful when they bring us in contact with nature —birds, gardens, geology and the like.—Charles H. Mayo, M. D., in the Rotarian Magazine.

SCOUTS GO TO PAHATSI SUNDAY

Tahoe Area Council Boy Scout summer camp will open for a two weeks session at Camp Pahatsi, Soda Springs, California, on July 18. The first week will be from July 18 to 25 and the second from July 25 to August 1. Yellow and green camp camp hats have already been issued to those scouts who have registered to attend.

Motion picture of Camp Pahatsi in action will be taken this year during scout camp. It is planned to follow a continuity whereby all of the camp activities can be preserved on film.

The camp museum is desirous of obtaining any objects of interest which may be used as exhibit material. Anything is acceptable.

Scouts attending camp this year will have an opportunity to participate in something new to the camp program. A number of genuine Boston bean crocks have been secured and will be used by the scouts to cook real Boston baked beans. These will be left overnight in underground holes.

DANCE AT NORTH SAN JUAN TOMORROW NIGHT

Over in North San Juan tomorrow (Saturday) night they will again put on another big dance for the benefit of their splendid community house. Excellent orchestral music is promised and there will be a big chicken supper around midnight. North San Juan is one of Nevada county's favorite dance Meccas. The hospitality of the North San Juan is traditional. No one ever attends a dance there who does not resolve to go to the next one.

Miss Alberta Bolton is visiting relatives in Colfax this week.

FIGHT AGAINST COURT PACKING IS INAUGURATED

SAN FRANCISCO. July 15.—State wide opposition to the pending compromise measure to "pack" the United States Supreme [illegible] launched at a huge luncheon meeting, sponsored by the San Francisco Unit of the League [illegible] Court Independence, at the Commercial Club, Merchants Exchange Building, San Francisco, today.

John Francis Neylan, noted California attorney, and Progressive delivered the address [illegible] Neylan is a brilliant orator and one of the outstanding analysts on political affairs. He presented clearly and concisely the real issues behind the plan to "pack" the Supreme Court, pointing out the danger to American institutions.

Francis W. Murphy, chairman of the San Francisco Unit, and leading Democrat, presided. General David Prescott Barrows, president of the League for Supreme Court Independence, represented the state organization. Officers, directors, members of the advisory council, and chairmen of the various Northern California Units attended, and cooperated in this demonstration against the "packing" of the Supreme Court.

The league went on record in opposition to the compromise plan now before the Senate, or any other plan that does not place this issue before the people of the United States in the form of an amendment as provided for by the Constitution.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder how to thank the mate
For his urbane and timely service—
He opened up the good ship's log
And now I'm feeling far less nervous;
It seems the regal U. S. A.
Has weathered many a storm before
And still sails on forever on
Though wild waves beat and tempests roar.

I wonder why Cousin Silas regards the present industrial storm as the worst in the nation's history and why he predicts calamnty as the inevitable outcome. According to Charles M. Schwab former disturbances have been just as severe—and we came through.

Inspect the log Silas, brace up and be a good sailor; good sailors do not stand aghast before a falling barometer, neither do they gather in groups and carp when storm signals are displayed. To be sure the ship of state occasionally wallows in the trough of the sea, but she always comes up with colors flying and every loyal able seaman at his post. It is far better to ride the storm than to drift into the entangling clutches of the dread Sargossa or to lie becalmed in the doldrums, and who knows? Perhaps the interminable squalls that mark the present season of bad weather are akin to the antics of a freshly decapitated fowl, in that they exhibit intensified activity in the face of greatly abbreviated longevity. Let's hope that clearing skies are waiting just beyond the next rugged headland.

I wonder what became of the man who wrote his dealer, ordering a "water sheep," when what he wanted was a hydraulic ram; and where is the tailor who had one tailor's goose and needed three more but didn't know how to word his order?

I wonder if you met the man who bought three dollars worth of gasoline; natty fishing togs, and a book of expensive flies; hied him to the mountains, spent ten dollars more for hotel accomodations, ruined his clothes crawling through unkindly underbrush, caught cold sitting upon damp, granite rocks, and then returned home with a bad case of poison oak and a rainbow trout which he could have purchased in any market for twenty five cents—plus sales tax. Do some of us work too hard at having a good time, and is that the reason why the joys of anticipation so often exceed those of participation?

I wonder why I find difficulty in catching the real import of cryptic remarks; when our President exclaimed, "A plague on both your houses!" I thought he meant the Senate and the House of Representatives.

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

From Aunt Sarah

There's no getting around it, if you wish your own home made marmalades on your shelves for the winter you must put them up in fruit season. It used to be only orange marmalade but now we hake thhem of many fruits and thus have a delightful variety for winter hot breads, sandwiches and toast. Aunt Sarah today presents two tried and true favorites.

Apricot Marmadale

Five pounds apricots.
Two and one-half pounds sugar.
One orange.
One lemon.

Put apricots through the grinder, mix with the sugar and bring to a boil. Cook slowly until almost marmadale consistency. Slice very thin the orange and lemon, add to the apricot mixture and cook until the orange and lemon peel are of an almost transparent consisteney. Seal in glasses while hot.

Peach and Orange Marmalade

Twelve large cling peaches.
Three oranges.
Sugar.

Grind the peeled peaches and the oranges (with peel), measure and add an equal amount of sugar and cook forty minutes. Seal while hot.

Tight-Minders vs. Open-Minders—The Tight-minders are folk who believe what they believe because they believe it. The Open-Minders believe what they believe because the facts compel them to believe it. The Tight-Minders believe what they believe in spite of the facts. The Open-Minders believe what they believe in spite of themselves—in spite of their preconceived ideas, vested interests, and prejudices.—A. E. Wiggam, author and columnist, in the Rotarian Magazine.

ROLLER SKATING RINK IN ARMORY HALL TODAY

Fred H. Baker and Joe Cifone, partners, opened a skating rink in Armory Hall yesterday. They spent considerable time in stringing red and white crepe paper across the hall to give a cheery appearance. Their aim will be to serve the public with courtesy. The Chicago Safety skates are used and these young men will teach anyone wishing to learn to skate. A door prize of a new pair of skates will be given every two weeks.

GIANT KING MINE SUIT MAY BE COMPROMISED

In the superior court before Judge Raglan Tuttle yesterday forenoon, William J. Cassettari attorney for Chollar Extension Mining Company and George S. Black, agent, defendants, and the Gold Zone Mining Company, Ltd., plaintiff, represented by W. E. Wright, together with certified public accountant, Louis Kane of Reno, Nevada, agreed to try to come to some compromise out of court. If any disputed points cannot be agreed upon thhe case will be brought into court on motion of either party.

This litigation is over the Giant King mine at Washington. Through misunderstandings the mine has been closed until the affairs of the two mining companies can be straightened out. Ore shipped to the Queen Lil custom mill several weeks ago at Nevada City yielded a good return and the mine holds promise of being one of the large producers of Nevada county.
